

Dr. Christos A. Karavitis is Associate Professor in the Agricultural University of Athens, Department of Natural Resources Development and Agricultural Engineering. He is also Professor Affiliate in Water Resources Planning and Management, Dep. of Civil & Environmental Engineering, Colorado State University, USA. He holds a Ph. D. in Civil Engineering, Water Resources Planning and Management, a M.Sc. in Agricultural Engineering, Groundwater Management, both from Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colorado, USA, and a B.Sc. in Agricultural Engineering and Land Reclamation, from the Agricultural University of Athens, Greece. His research Interests include: Water Resources Planning and Management, Decision Support Systems and web-based and real time applications, Wastewater Management, Hydrological Risk (Drought, Floods etc.) Management, Contingency Planning, Conflict resolution, Environmental Security, and Transboundary River Basin Management. He has participated as Coordinator or Partner in many research projects in Europe (EU funded COROADO, DMCSEE, DESIRE, LOLaqua, ARID CLUSTER, DESERT-LINKS, AUTOHAZARD – PRO, WATERSTRATEGYMAN, MEDALUS, PESERA, etc.) and in USA (NSF, USACE, etc.), and he has conducted research in Africa, Latin America, and China. He has published many articles and studies in accredited international journals and conferences internationally as well as, reports of the European Commission's and National research Projects. He has also participated as an expert in some of the major water resources development projects in Greece in recent years including the Euenos dam for the water supply of Metropolitan Athens, the new Athens International Airport storm drainage system, and the general layout of the 2004 Olympic venues of Athens Coastal Zone. Finally, since 1998 he is serving as an Expert and Evaluator for the European Commission's research programs. He is a full member of the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE), the Geotechnical Chambers of Greece (GEOTEE), and of the International Water Resources Association (IWRA).